three essential issues, among others, reflecting weaknesses of MINUSCA actions which has resulted in a lack of population trust: (i) composition of MINUSCA, which has gradually been built up to over 90% by Muslim contingents; (ii) action of certain contingents directed solely towards the protection of the majority of armed groups judged by these contingents as belonging to a minority while they are strongly engaged in the conflict and (iii) lack of professionalism of certain contingents and appropriate response by MINUSCA forces to mass killings and the protection of civilians victims of armed conflict. Read their perspectives further here.

Cementing Partnerships to Address Vulnerabilities

A Fragility Assessment was held in the Union of the Comoros, starting from 21 to 23 June 2017 in Anjouan, from 29 June to 1st July 2017 in Mohéli and from mid-August in Comoros. This tripartite exercise, which brought together Government representatives, technical and financial partners and civil society organizations from the grass-roots level, was perceived a rather emblematic process for its inclusive nature throughout the whole process. This Country Team, set up following the CSPPS Scoping mission in the Comoros last February, is composed of 56 Civil Society Organizations of the Greater Comoros, 30 organizations of Anjouan and 20 organizations of Mohéli. For the CSPPS, a Fragility Assessment without active and meaningful representation of the civil society will not lead to an adequate identification of the root causes of fragility. Ahmed Yousseuf, CSPPS Focal Point in Comoros, participating in the evaluation session reported that progress is reported on some Peacebuilding and Statebuilding Goals (PSG). A Role for Youth in promoting peaceful, just and inclusive societies

'The Role of Young People in Promoting Peaceful, Just and Inclusive Societies', a side event co-organised on 19 July by the Civil Society Platform for Peacebuilding and Statebuilding (CSPPS), UNDP, UNPBSO, Cordaid, Search for Common Ground (SFCG) and the United Network of Young Peacebuilders (UNOY), on behalf of the Inter-Agency Working Group on Youth and Peacebuilding, in conjunction with the High Level Political Forum on Sustainable Development (HLPF 2017), discussed young people's role in promoting peaceful, just and inclusive societies, by showcasing promising examples, innovations and by expressing and discussing challenges for meaningful participation by young people in peacebuilding. The event, moderated by Peter van Sluijs, Senior Strategist and CSPPS Coordinator at Cordaid, focused on three case countries namely Afghanistan, Libya, and Nigeria. Concluding the event, Peter alluded that there are still challenges for civil society to be part of what is supposed to be the transformative multi-stakeholder partnership approach in the operationalization of SDGs. Though membership driven, it should allow civil society – including youth organizations to be brought to the table, to be given the opportunity to partner and participate. This is a concern that civil society is trying to address at various levels. Peter continued that Goal 16, and all included in it, is an accelerator for success of the whole 2030 Agenda. He further suggested that there should be a review on what countries are doing to implement Goal 16 on an annual basis – as done with Goal 17. Peter urged for the need to progress on SDG16 both at national and international levels. If we are not doing that, we are missing the chance of making the 2030 Agenda as success. Read more here – watch side-event video recording here
